

Raza canaries are tiny, sleek, fast flying birds with a big medium loud rolling song.
The Raza Espanola type canary originated in Spain then spread across Europe and is now becoming popular in the United States.

ARCN

American Raza Canary Network

ARCN is a Network, not a club.

A network of Raza owners and breeders interested in learning about the Raza Canary, sharing that knowledge, exchanging birds, promoting and showing the breed and connecting interested people to breeders with Raza available for purchase.

No Officers! No Board! Run by interested volunteers.

We believe it is time for the American bred Raza to have a band of it's own, sized to fit this tiny bird.

It's time for an American Raza Canary Network. Please join us.

Benefits of Becoming A Member:

- ARCN bands sized for Raza
- Website with useful information on breed standard, exhibiting, care and current articles of interest.
- A Breeders List on the website to help the public searching for Raza
- Quarterly newsletter updates can be received as email or as printed mailings.
- Classifieds in the newsletter will help members who may have Raza birds for sale or exchange, or may be searching for birds.
